

Hello children's mental health champions!

July is Minority Mental Health Month. Congress formally recognized it in 2008 to bring awareness to the unique experiences of BIPOC \(Black, Indigenous People of Color\), LGBTQ+ folk, and refugee and immigrant populations. This year, let's focus on BIPOC mental health, like LGBTQ+ Families for Black Lives. The National Museum of African-American History and Culture encourages your self-care, as do these Black voices you need to follow on Instagram, and so too "nap ministries" encourage rest as a form of reparations. Watching people wake up to racism has an emotional toll. Support is available like this mental health app just for Black Americans, or this list of resources or this list.

We also must address concerns before they begin and the systems that hold them in place. Racism is a threat to kids of all ages; the brains of children respond to the threat to safety that it is. All of us - teachers, nonprofit leaders, philanthropists, mental health workers, journalists, donors, white people - have a role and responsibility in this. Confront our biases. Make mistakes & admit them. Read kids' books. Have brave conversations, even with young kids. Join these opportunities too:

- Summer session of virtual facilitation workshops on equity/inclusion
- This webinar \(Thursday, July 9th, 2:00-3:00 PM\) on an anti-racist intersectional frame and how to apply it to your work.
- Release of the Race to Lead Revisited report of DEI in the nonprofit sector, then the Milwaukee release event on July 14th, 10:00 AM.
- Becoming an Antiracist Society: Setting A Developmental Research Agenda, tomorrow (Tuesday, June 30) 12:30 PM

CCMH Strategy & Value Highlights

That's what the Hogg Foundation found out with the ongoing work of their mental health communications funding, including a set of ~30 minute modules on structural competency, implicit bias, and more.

FAIR ACCESS - Super Helpful Resources

- Online mental health care shouldn't end with the pandemic It removes barriers, such as transportation costs and scheduling issues. Learn how to use this tech-based outreach tomorrow \(Tuesday, June 30th\) at 12:30 PM. Also apply for telemedicine grants (deadline July 13th) for equipment, professional development, and technical assistance to utilize this approach.

EARLY CARE & EDUCATION - Make Your Voice Heard & Resources

You can also complete this survey (also in Spanish) by tomorrow (June 30th) to help inform the next set of policy actions so that the national organization, NAEYC, can support child care across all over.
- As you are reopening, check out how implementation research could improve outcomes in ECE centers. Register for the launch event tomorrow (Tuesday, June 30), 1:00-2:30 PM.

COMPASSION RESILIENCE - Webinars & Super Helpful Resources

- Check in with yourself, your team, and your community with this "color check" tool to encourage honest conversations on how we are doing, which can prompt discussions about what we can do to better support each other (for example, taking a "Brain Break" is a helpful way to boost creativity, cognitive function, and social skills). Organizations must take responsibility for planning for this unpredictable year while keeping their staff in mind. You can use this tool to equip you with strategies for thinking ahead for your organization. Furthermore, you can join the July 29th webinar, Navigating Change: Three Tools for Moving from Response to Resilience, to learn even more.
- On July 2nd, mental health providers can attend Mental Health Mutual Support Calls for Thriving at Work During COVID-19 for Mental Health Providers, which will facilitate support and resource sharing in three one-hour virtual learning discussions.

ACEs & TRAUMA - Newsworthy

- Children are at risk of high post-traumatic stress scores as they face the uncertainty and chaos of a global pandemic. It is possible to harness that stress into growth. To avoid a "wounded generation" and the impacts of trauma on adulthood (including parenthood), we have to act across all of society; we all have a responsibility to provide emotional support to one another.
- First, one of the many lessons from this pandemic regarding toxic stress, is that the government needs to step up. Furthermore, new research continues to examine how we screen for childhood adversities and how those experiences lead to symptoms of mental illness; this includes adding adverse community experiences like peer rejection or community violence exposure.
- Finally, the National Alliance for Grieving Children invites you to apply for grants to strengthen the capacity and effectiveness of providing children's bereavement services. Apply by July 17th.
